

GAS SUPPLY HERE BECAME NORMAL LATE YESTERDAY

Service Restored After Damaging Fire at Gas Plant in West Conshohocken

RESTAURANTS REOPEN

Residents at Bristol Terrace I Had Trying Experiences

Gas supply in the four-county area—Bucks, Montgomery, Chester and Berks—was normal today, following the serious fire at the gas plant of the Philadelphia Electric Company at West Conshohocken yesterday morning, which caused the gas supply to be terminated.
The gas manufacturing plants at Chester and Oreland are being utilized today.
In the Bristol area the gas supply became normal yesterday afternoon.
Some of the public eating places which were forced to close due to inability to prepare food remained closed for the balance of the day but reopened today.

The most serious effects of the lack of gas in this area was felt at Bristol Terrace I, where the 200 houses are heated by gas.

Devious ways of keeping the body warm were used in the 200 housing units at Bristol Terrace I yesterday when gas was not available for heating and cooking. All of the units are heated by individual gas burners. Some new methods of keeping warm were inaugurated.
One woman kept her electric toaster turned on in the small kitchen, taking advantage of what heat was thrown out; while one elderly man caring for his two little granddaughters bundled them into snowsuits and wrapped blankets about them on the davenport until their daddy returned home.

At two o'clock yesterday afternoon temperatures in most of the units ranged at 50 to 52. Some residents claimed the temperature on the floor was possibly 15 degrees lower, due to the fact the cold air intake pipes are located near the floor, the hot air outlets are near the ceiling, and there are no basements under the houses.

Facilities of the community house at Bristol Terrace II were made available to residents of Terrace I.

Registration at 18 Is Now Compulsory

The liability of every male citizen of the United States and every other male person residing in the United States, including those who become 18 years old, to register with a Draft Board as provided in the Selective Service Act of 1940, as amended, remains unchanged.

While the Selective Service Act exempts men under 19 years of age from induction, except volunteers, prompt registration at the age of 18 remains compulsory.

Any such person becoming 18 years old is required by law to present himself immediately for registration by the Local Board for the area in which he has his permanent home or by the Local Board where he happens to be on that day.

Men becoming 18 years old are reminded that their failure to register with the Draft Board is a violation of the Selective Service Act punishable, upon conviction, by imprisonment for 5 years or a fine of $10,000 or both.

All Local Boards are open daily Monday through Friday and men becoming 18 years old are urged to present themselves promptly for registration. Failure to do so will result in prosecution in the Federal Court.

A SUMMARY OF THE NEWS

Republican leadership in the Senate won its first victory yesterday by pushing through an extremely close vote an extension of the life of the Special War Investigating Committee. The leaders were forced, however, to limit the committee's powers. A resolution to speed the reorganization of railroads without going through bankruptcy was introduced in the Senate.

Labor unions, the education system and Hollywood will be investigated for Communist influence by the House Committee in Republican hands.

The portal-pay issue continued to command official attention. The Treasury ruled that employers could charge payments of damage claims against the income of the profitable years on which the suits were based, thus reducing their taxes. The Navy estimated potential liabilities on only two types of contracts at $900-000,000 and the Commerce Department expressed "deep concern" over the possible "great damage" to the national economy from the suits.

Action on a compromise proposal to end the long, violent Alis-Chalmers strike was delayed by the failure of three United Automobile Workers officials to attend a meeting called by President Reuther.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

Comparisons

Washington, Jan. 23.
THERE appears these days considerable not entirely sincere concern being manifested about the alleged serious deterioration in the personnel of the Government service. Loud laments are made over the inability to get good men to come to Washington or to get them to stay very long when they do.

READING some of these almost tearful outpourings, it would be easy to conclude that there is not a single man left of brains or character in the whole Federal Administration; that the Government is now exclusively in the hands of the feeble-minded and unfit; that the human level of officialdom is alarmingly low. There are several things that can be said about this presentation. One is that it simply is not true. Another is that the effort to make it seem true is not unmixed with political prejudice and personal disappointment.

FOR EXAMPLE, some of the most pitiful bleating about this so-called "deeply disturbing" state of affairs comes from former members of the Roosevelt "inner circle" and their not altogether disinterested literary aides whose day of White House privilege has departed and whose belief is that all virtue and wisdom went out of the Government when the Roosevelt regime ended. Thus, we are told that that is a great contrast between these dreary days and those halcyon ones when Mr.
Roosevelt was President and crowds of "brilliant young men" were irresistibly drawn to the Adminis-

LANGHORNE COUNCIL LISTS BUDGET ITEMS

STREETS LARGE ITEM

is announced.

three steel trash containers. They

ROADSIDE REST TO BE AT SELLERSVILLE

Is One of 10 Such Areas To Be Completed in State by Spring

SITE IS ¾ OF AN ACRE

The Pennsylvania Department of Highways expects to have at least 10 road-side rest areas completed and ready for use by the time the 1947 tourist season hits its stride.

One of these rest areas is planned near Sellersville on U. S. Route 309.
The area of this site is approximately three-quarters of an acre.
Work is coming along on the first two areas which were started in the state last fall, and these will be finished at an early date.

Recently Department employees started work on a third roadside rest along U. S. Route 1 near Concordville in Delaware county. The preliminary work is being carried out during the winter months which will enable the Department to put the finishing touches on the project in the spring.

The two areas on which work is nearly finished are along U. S. Route 5 in Bradford county near the Tioga county line and the second on U. S.
Route 322 near Grampian in Clearfield county.

Work is expected to begin as soon as weather conditions permit on an area along U. S. Route 15 between Williamsport and Allen-wood. Here five acres have been obtained from the Department of Forests and Waters.

Plans have been approved for building a roadside rest along U. S.
Route 611 near Bartonville, Monroe county. This site of approximately one acre in area has been donated to the Department for the purpose.
It is expected that preliminary work will get under way at this location shortly.

Negotiations are pending for rest areas near Laughlintown in Westmoreland county on U. S. Route 30, and in the Youghiogheny reservoir district in Somerset county on U. S. Route 40.

The Department also has under consideration the location of a rest area in the Seven Mountains district

People Do Read The Courier!

73 Schumacher Drive, Bristol.
Editor, Courier:

A bit of news and a bit of a boost for a good newspaper. As an officer of the Terrace Association, I recently had reason to make a house to house canvass of the Terrace. Many of the tenants were not home, and not having any notepaper with me, I wrote a brief message around the top of each Courier I found on the porch. Every one to whom I wrote came to see me or answered my note.

EVERYBODY MUST READ
THE COURIER!

NEWTOWN KIDDIES NOW IN U. S. AFTER 9 YEARS ABROAD

Marian and Frederick Schiller, Age 11 and 12, Fly Atlantic from Germany

REUNION PARTY HELD

Fail to Recognize Their Parents After Absence of Nine Years

NEWTOWN, Jan. 23 — Home once more after nine years in Germany, during most of which time that country was in the throes of a World War, Marian and Frederick Schiller were so excited at a reunion with relatives and friends yesterday that they could scarcely eat the bountiful goodies placed before them.

To Marian and Frederick, who failed to recognize their parents, Mr. and Mrs. August Schiller, of George School, the vegetables were familiar, but they failed to touch the meat—telling their parents they would try this food, foreign to their accustomed diet, "later."

It was a happy occasion for the Schillers at LaGuardia Airport, New York, N. Y., when the "New York" flagship of the American Overseas Airlines, touched the ground yesterday. Mother and father warmly clasped Marian, 11, and Frederick, 12, in their arms. The children had not seen mother and dad since the kiddies were two and three years old. The kiddies — mother, Mrs. Marie Roos, had been visiting the Schillers, and upon returning to Germany nine years ago took the small children with her. Their mother, Mrs. Schiller, planned to go to Germany

MOSCOW STREET SCENE

J. J. Maloney, former Australian minister to Moscow, said in a recent editorial page article in the London Sunday Dispatch that there are "hundreds of thousands" of beggars in Russia. "You can go to any part of Moscow away from the main streets or to any one of the open markets and there you will find the beggars, many of them deformed through industrial injury, begging from their fellow citizens in this land of socialism," Maloney said. He called housing conditions "appalling" with "hundreds of people packed into apartments large enough to accommodate only a half dozen families."

This close-up of Communism at home is not too startling, as it has become a familiar picture, relayed by many observers at first hand. Its more curious aspect is in its contrast to the cartoon Moscow propagandists like to draw of the American capitalistic scene. Most American postwar shortages, particularly that of food, were played up by the Reds as typical of this nation's free enterprise system.

"In the so-called richest country of the world, the workers starve," was the line, with no mention of the fact that the United States was serving as the largest contributor to world food needs, while Soviet charity began and ended at home. All economic dislocations in the United States came in for similar editorial treatment, to spread complacent cheer for the home folks in the Communist state.

At the same time, Communists in the United States continued to take advantage of free speech and other guarantees of personal liberty to create the very conditions of industrial strife and social unrest which Russian propagandists capitalize at home to cast reflections on America and American institutions.

Thus Communism plays both ends against the middle to spread world revolution with Moscow as a center of disturbance. Those who are won over to the party line by soap-box provocateurs, while the fellow travelers strive to raise havoc with economic security the country over, must be a gullible lot indeed.

Seventy per cent of the nation's lend-lease bills have been marked paid, according to a White House announcement. But the same system won't work on a taxpayer's Christmas bills.

Some members of the new Congress would be more enthusiastic about cutting taxes if it did not involve cutting government expenditures below $40,000,000,000 annually.

The Great Game of Politics

The difference now is that first-class men cannot be induced, so it is said—to take office under Mr. Truman, and there is no pretense of "brilliance."

IT IS all in the point of view. Of course, it is true that during the war the biggest men in the country were willing—even eager—to come to Washington, glad to make any sacrifice for the chance of helping win the war. No man who was asked could refuse. Many who would like to have come were not asked. When the war was over it was inevitable that most of these should return to private life. Undoubtedly, there is less brilliancy among Government officials now than there was during the war, more difficult to get men of large affairs to make sacrifices to serve the Government in a peace period.

IT would be strange, indeed, if that were not so and there seems no point in insisting on so obvious a fact. It is in the comparison of the postwar period of Mr. Truman with the prewar period of Mr. Roosevelt that the effort to disparage the Truman Administration is made by members of the small but extremely articulate group who once so profitably basked in the smiles of the late President. Their effort is singularly unconvincing—particularly in regard to the Cabinet. As a matter of fact it seems likely that most dispassionate and informed men would agree that the Truman Cabinet as a whole is a better Cabinet than any of the Roosevelt Cabinets and that where Mr. Truman has put in a new man he has raised and not lowered the level. Certainly, he did that in replacing Mr. Henry Morgenthau with Mr. John Snyder as Secretary of the Treasury; Mr. Francis Biddle with Mr. Clark for Attorney General; Madame Perkins with Mr. Schwelb as Secretary of Labor; Mr. Henry Wallace with Mr. A. V. R. Harrison as Secretary of Commerce. Nor will many content that in naming Gen. George Marshall as Secretary of State the public service has been deteriorated.

ON the next official plane, the coming to Washington of such men as Mr. W. Stuart Symington to become Assistant Secretary of War for Air, Mr. John Nicholas Brown to become Assistant Secretary of the Navy for Air and a number of others of the same type does not bear out the idea that it is "longer possible to get good men to serve the Government" and that we are wholly in the hands of mediocrities. The repetitive insistence with which this argument is put forth makes it seem more like plain anti-Truman propaganda, not tinged with malice, than anything else. To be sure, it is not easy for Mr. Truman to induce the men he wants to come here to take the jobs he wants them to take and that there have been some resignations which were regrettable. But that has been true in every Administration and with every President.

THE thing that is not true is that the public service suffers because the personnel of the Government now is lower than it was under Mr. Roosevelt before the war. There may be as much of a certain kind of brilliance now, but there is much less malice. There was more drama and showmanship under Mr. Roosevelt, but there is more soundness and balance under Mr. Truman. In the Roosevelt days there was the vast illiarity of a wild spending spree during which dozens of obscure men came to the front with new and costly governmental experiments and they all seemed brilliant to each other. Also, the Democratic party was in the ascendancy.

NOW, the inevitable and easily foreseen consequences of those reckless days are upon us. The spending game is played out. The country has turned against the experiments and the experimenters. The problem is to recover our equilibrium. The Democrats, as always, have lost control of Congress and the Roosevelt type of "brilliant young men" would be worse than helpless in the kind of situation that now exists and for which they were partially responsible. One of the things to be thankful for is that we no longer have them.

Match Your Hat and Hairdo

Movie star Janet Blair achieves a pleasant effect with an upsweep hairdo and gay hat.

By HELEN FOLLETT

ONE of the pleasant signs of the times is the co-operative spirit between hair stylists and millinery designers. As soon as a new hairdo comes along there is a new kind of a lid to top it. It wasn't like that when grandmother was a girl. When she blanketed her head with an inside pompadour, a thirty-six-inch braided and enough pulls to fill a biscuit tin, the Merry Widow hat arrived. And was all that a load on the fevered brow? It took an iron woman to stagger along under it. No matter how much home grown hair a woman had, she added the demountable units.

Now all is gaiety and gladness. No matter what kind of a hairdo you decide upon, you can find a piece that will fit and stay put. There never was a time when millinery was so varied in form, when there was such an array of offerings from which to make a selection. They come big and little, flat and tall.

The wrong hat will turn the prettiest woman into a caricature of her real self. That is why you should use your head in making a choice. Good taste will direct one. If a woman is blessed with good taste she will never make a mistake in make-up, dress or coiffure arrangement.

Some women are hat crazy, and who would blame them? They'll economize in all kinds of ways, then fling money in the wildest manner as soon as they wander into the hat department.

Every woman knows that when she feels low in her mind, the best cure for depressed spirits is a new hat of smart design and engaging color. It does something to her soul, especially if it has a youthful flair.

Hat and hair dress! If both are precisely right they'll prove the making of a woman. The reflection in the mirror will be gratifying.

A Digest of Things Political Occurring At Harrisburg

By International News Service
HARRISBURG, Jan. 23.—(INS)—House Minority Leader Hiram G. Andrews, of Johnstown, has suggested that Pennsylvania's Governors be inaugurated on June 1st following their elections rather than in January. Andrews explained that by delaying the oath-taking until the end of the fiscal year the Governor-elect would have sufficient time in which to prepare his budget and program. Andrews emphasized he still favored November elections. To carry out Andrews proposal a Constitutional Amendment would be necessary. The General Assembly would have to approve it at two separate regular sessions. The electorate would be required to sanction the change.

For three minutes on January 2 Pennsylvania was without a Governor. . . . Edward Martin, in a statewide radio address, announced at 3:35 p. m. that he would resign as chief executive to assume his seat in the U. S. Senate. . . . Two minutes later he made his resignation official by filing it with Secretary of Commonwealth C. M. Morrison. . . . At 3:40 p. m. John C. Bell, Jr., who had been Lieutenant Governor, was sworn in as chief executive. . . . At the same ceremonies spectators were afforded the rare opportunity of seeing an ex-Governor, Governor and Governor-elect on the same platform. . . . Attorney General James H. Duff, who will become Governor January 21, presided at the meeting.

When Martin left the State House to assume his duties at Washington he took with him a sign that had Andrews said "A good campaign of education would be required to get the idea across" and added "I've been unable to interest the leaders of either party in it." The State Constitution provides that "The Governor shall hold his office, during four years from the third Tuesday of January next ensuing his election, and shall not be eligible for the next succeeding term." Andrews also expressed the belief that the General Assembly should convene in June if the Governor assumed office in the same month. . . . The Legislature meet the first Tuesday of January in odd-numbered years.

Andrews said "A good campaign of education would be required to get the idea across" and added "I've been unable to interest the leaders of either party in it." The State been familiar to Cabinet officials and newspapermen for several years. . . . In Martin's private conference room he had placed a long hand-lettered sign reading: "No one is indispensable." It was a gift several years ago from John U. Shroyer who was fired as Highways Secretary nine months before the administration ended. . . . Another ornament of the room was Martin's trophy board containing a number of swords, sabres and daggers. . . . The collection included a Japanese sword removed from the body of a Nip officer in the Pacific during World War II.

Smooth slate-making tactics of Republican leaders were demonstrated during the opening of the 1947 session of the General Assembly. . . . Some leaders expressed the belief that if the GOP hierarchy can follow through with the procedure, the program of Governor-elect James H. Duff can be enacted speedily. . . . Many Assemblymen have predicted that only an inter-party battle among Republican forces over taxes could blast GOP chieftains' hopes for a short meeting of the Legislature.

Rep. Franklin H. Lichtenwalter, of Center Valley, was visibly moved after his election as Speaker of the House of Representatives. . . . ## KNOW YOUR STATE Pennsylvania's dominance in the steel and coal industries is known throughout the world. The State leads the nation in the number of its textile mills and in the production of a great variety of textile products.

Among Pennsylvania's "firsts" are full fashioned hosiery, knitted underwear, lace goods, rayon, men's and boy's shirts and underwear, carpet yarns, linoleum, and the weaving of silk and rayon fabrics. Textiles are second to steel in importance among the state's productive industries and provide approximately 20 per cent of all manufacturing employment.

These great textile industries are the result of a steady growth, beginning with the early Swedish settlers along the Delaware. These first colonists raised sheep, spun and wove wool, grew flax and produced flax linens.

The early German settlers along the Wissahickon near Philadelphia made their living largely through the growing of flax and the weaving of linen.

Penn's enlightened policy of encouragement to textile industries led to the setting up of a "flax factory" which was the second textile plant in America.

A part of Pennsylvania's success in the early production of yarn and thread was due to the invention of John Antes, a Moravian Missionary, born in Montgomery County in 1740. He devised a yarn distributor for the spinning wheel which greatly increased the speed of production of fine thread, and at Bethlehem at the Moravian settlement the spinning and weaving of cotton hemp and wool was an established industry in early Colonial days.

It was under the leadership of Benjamin Franklin that in 1769 the silk industry was first established in Pennsylvania. Mulberry trees were planted at various points in the city of Philadelphia, and by 1771 more than a ton of cocoons had been reared at the silk thread plant in that city. So quickly was this industry established that silk raised in 1770 by Susanna Wright, a Quakeress of Lancaster County, was made into a court dress for the Queen of England.

The 1945 General Assembly granted an appropriation of $150,000 to finance the acquisition of sites and the construction of roadside rests. The Department hopes to have one rest area in each county located along the main traffic arteries so they will be available for tourists. In order to carry out its program whenever possible, the Department of Highways is endeavoring to secure sites from other state agencies and the Federal government. The site for the area in Monroe county has been donated and Department officials also hope to secure others in this manner.

Faith Clarke's SHOPPING TIPS FOR BUDGETEERS

WORRIED? About a trustworthy place to take your jewelry, watches and silverware for repair, without paying exorbitant prices? The Snellenburg Store has a Repair Dept. that many Budgeteers have found highly satisfactory. I heartily recommend it. It is famous, too, for the designing of mountings for either new or old precious stones, the correct restringing of pearls, for the replating of silverware. A particularly delightful bit of work the department does is the metalizing of baby shoes, sometimes making them into book-ends, ashtrays, and the like, for gifts to doting relatives! (1st fl.)

YOUR OWN MOVIES can make loved ones live forever, children always stay young. I know of no more satisfying investment, therefore, than the Keystone Mfg. Co.'s low-priced 8-m.m. moving picture camera. Now to be had in the Snellenburg Photographic Supplies Dept. There are too many good features about this excellent small camera to enumerate here, but I do want to emphasize that it is very simple to operate and load. The camera will take any standard 8-m.m. films in either kodachrome or black and white. Films can be had in the Snellenburg department. A booklet of instructions accompanies each camera. The camera's size makes it grand for traveling. It can also be used indoors with photo floods. Price, $64.50. (1st fl.)

QUEEN OF ITS KIND is the up-to-date edition of Fannie Farmer's famous "Boston Cooking School Cook Book." The present wonderful edition is to celebrate the golden jubilee of publication. The first edition was published in 1896. It is said that Fannie Farmer's book sells six times as frequently as other cook books. The present edition is so thoroughly modern that it even includes a chart for freezing! Priced at $2.75. Quite a few housewives are buying it for bridal showers, or as an inexpensive, practical wedding present. You'll find it in the Snellenburg Book Dept. (1st fl.)

INDOOR BEAUTY. The Snellenburg Garden Dept. suggests that you start bulbs for indoor blooming at once. The department has many tested beauties, Dutch, Belgian and American—yellow or white. Prices: 95c a doz.; red, 1.19 a doz.; white, 79c each; tuberosa rooted begonias, 12c each; 1.19 a doz., etc., etc. Lovely, lovely! (1st fl.)

ANYBODY, from six-year-olds to grandparents, male or female, can join in making delightful rugs for their own homes or for gifts to friends. The Snellenburg Art Needlework Dept. teaches this rug-making and sells the materials. I was amazed at how many men are learning the art and how proud they are of the rugs they make! The art is simple, just a matter of enjoying the time. Whole families can work upon a rug at the same time, or it can be done solo. The basic canvases are stamped with the colored patterns, suitable for any room in a house. A $6 canvas measures 60 by 36 inches. The wools, cut in the right length for tying, cost 25c a package. Not all the colors need to be bought at the same time. Free lessons when the materials are bought in the department. (2nd fl.)

PERSONALIZED "informals" are a boon to us busy women. Those offered by the Snellenburg Stationery Dept. are correct socially and reasonably priced—$1.95 for one hundred informal and one hundred envelopes. The informals are double folders of heavy white vellum, with the name in a choice of simulated engraved, old English print or script. Allow about four weeks for printing. These informals make excellent gifts. (1st fl.)

P.S. Do send clippings with mail orders when you can! Phone free (5c, 10c, and 15c out-of-town calls only). Penna.—ENT 10160; Jersey—WX-1150. Shop located Market, 11th to 12th Sts. Phila.—through to 1125-29 Chestnut St. Be hearin' from you. Faithfully, FAITH.

Today's Quiet Moment

By the Rev. Arthur D. Sargis, Pastor, Eddington Presbyterian Church

Dear Father we thank Thee for this another day. Life is not a right, it is a gift. We do forget that all things come from Thee. Forgive us for ever having overlooked that tremendous fact. Life is such a privilege and we abuse it so. We have not done as well as we know we are capable. Why is it we are not always at our best? For all such lesser living during the hours of this day we ask for forgiveness. May we penitently seek Thy face and Thy companionship. Bless our family and other loved ones. We pray in Jesus precious name. Amen.

Without Painful Backache

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or painful passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's gives happy relief and will help the 16 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Quarter of Play

The Rohm and Haas team remained in the race for the Bristol Basketball League pennant by scoring a lop-sided win over the Knights of Columbus quintet last night in the chemical mixers' court. Final score was 31-17.

It wasn't until the final quarter that Rohm and Haas team actually made a runaway of the contest. At the end of the third quarter, the count was 18-15 but "Augie" Everitt and Boscal Rice put the finishing touches with five field goals between them in the last session.

"Chuck" Klein and Everitt were high for Rohm and Haas while "Buddy" Bonner led the Knights with Profy and Mignoni playing good defensive ball.

FIFTH WARDERS MOVE INTO FOURTH PLACE

The Fifth Ward Sporting Club moved into fourth place in the Bristol Basketball League by triumphing over the Falls Alumni outfit, 40-21, in a one-sided contest on the Maple Beach club-house

There was no doubt as to the outcome of the game from the start as the fifth warders passed rings around their foes. The Warders played their best ball this season as they amassed their score.

Tomorrow night, the outstanding

Bucks Co. May Have 2nd Radio Station

with the FCC in communities surrounding this area. First was Norristown, followed quickly by Morrisville. Then Bethlehem filed, a third station in Allentown, and last week Pottstown. This leaves the areas of upper and central Bucks county, the county seat, and the towns of the North Penn without local radio service. This station is planned to fill this need.

With the exception of Norristown, most of the other stations in this area are 250 watts in power, but the new one will be 1000 watts. It will be strong enough, it is stated, to give complete listening pleasure and advertising service to all of Bucks County. One of the factors which caused this selection was the only one open which did not conflict with the radio bands established in this area. Thus the new station has a clear channel and will operate at 1370 on the dial.

"There is still a problem to be worked out with Pottstown which has filed on the same band," states Mr. Meredith. "However, they have already altered their band with an amended band of 1420. The FCC will iron out this matter, and it is hoped will assign open channels for each station. When this will be done cannot be predicted since the FCC is swamped with applications, and just last week made public a deadline when no more applications will be accepted.

"Past performance has shown that the FCC will issue a construction permit sometime in the spring.
About six months is the time required to purchase the transmitter, the tower, tower site, studios, speech input equipment, consoles, pieces of equipment as well as microphones and the many other construction and wiring. During this period, accredited engineers, program arrangers and announcers and the various members to operate the station will be interviewed and assigned to their work.

"The new station will operate daytime hours seven days a week.
The program presentations will include news round-ups of Bucks County several times a day, as well as local, national, and international news. Farm and Grange news, crop prices, weather conditions, and court house coverage will also be given. In addition to these programs, the station will present many church and Sunday school, and general community service programs. And, of course, athletic contests throughout the county will be broadcast whenever possible.

"Programs designed for women listeners such as 'kitchen ranging,'
'the cook book,' child care, and gardening will also be presented.
"To give Bucks County its own station is a considerable undertaking, and the response to the programs and services rendered is a large factor in the success of the station. Reports from all sides, however, indicate a large interest in a station rendering real service to this area."

MULLIGAN'S BLOCK SAVES "HIBOES" FROM TIE SCORE

Passanante Five Had Tied the Score When Mulligan Stopped Petrick

FINAL SCORE, 37 TO 35

Quigley and Rodgers Were High Men for The Hibernians

"Moose" Mulligan's perfect block of an attempted field goal saved the Hibernians last night as the Hibs eked out a close win over the Passanante five. The game, played on the Rohm and Haas floor, ended with the final score: Hibernians, 37; Passanante, 35.

"Bob" Petrick had an open shot under the basket in the last few seconds of the tilt when Mulligan raced behind him and stuck up his hand in time to prevent the ball from going into the net. The goal would have tied the score. Mulligan was injured on the play and removed from the game.

"Joe" Quigley and "Johnny" Rodgers were high men for the Hibs with 13 and nine points, respectively. The "Hibs" were handicapped by lack of substitutes and "Jobby" Dugan played with an injured knee.

1947 RED CROSS FUND CUT NEARLY MILLION

Goal of $2,490,000 Set For Southeastern Penna. Chapter, It Is Announced

FIVE - COUNTY AREA

A goal of $2,490,000 for the 1947 Red Cross Fund Campaign, Southeastern Pennsylvania Chapter, was announced today by Benjamin Rush, Jr., chapter chairman.

At the conclusion of the announce- ment Rush and the 1947 Fund chairman, Brig. Gen. Brendon G. Wallace, received pledges of support from the committee.

General Wallace, who served on the staff of the late Lt. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., explained that of the $2,490,000, the chapter would retain $1,450,000 to finance the work of its extensive program. "The chapter's contribution to National Red Cross activities this year has been set at $1,040,000," he said.

"The chapter's quota, representing a decrease of 27 per cent. or nearly $1,000,000 under last year's goal of $3,490,000, will be used to finance Red Cross programs principally to aiding servicemen," Wallace said.

"That means," he added, "the occupation forces overseas and hospi- talized G. I.'s veterans and their families. In addition, such Red Cross services to the civilian public as disaster relief, nursing activities, first aid and water safety, also are budgeted for the coming year."

Wallace said that the national Red Cross budget for 1947-48 actually is $92,000,000. However, he explained that the national goal will be only $60,000,000, with the difference to be supplied from reserves resulting from previously over-subscribed drives.

"The Red Cross program this year is immeasurably greater in scope than it was after the First World War," Wallace said.

"As we get further and further away from V-J Day, the glamour of aiding our servicemen and veterans is wearing thin," he went on. "But the end of glamour roles doesn't spell the end of the need to continue this job which only Red Cross is so efficiently organized to handle."

Wallace said that "we all know Red Cross was an outstandingly successful wartime agency. But," he added, "we must remember also that Red Cross is not alone a wartime agency. It must continue to make its contributions to a world now seeking to re-establish peace."

"Unfortunately, the world is beset by hunger, sickness and depriva- tion," he said. "The one vast agency throughout the world which never must leave the side of those who suffer is Red Cross."

"There must never be a blackout on kindness," he said.

Wallace appraised the objectives of the Red Cross program from the standpoint of "a soldier familiar with the great Red Cross war record, and as a citizen who knows why Red Cross must now carry on."

He said that in the heat of combat, he saw Red Cross "reaching out as an arm of mercy to relieve misery and suffering."

"Red Cross is the only organiza- tion equipped to do the job at home which must be done," said Wallace. "I've seen the Army side of it and the civilian side of it. We owe it to the wounded to carry on indefi- nitely. But we must also work for civilian needs."

Wallace, president of the archi- tectural firm of Wallace and War- ner, was assistant Chief of Staff, G-3, in charge of liaison, under Gen- eral Patton.

DOYLESTOWN TO KEEP SAME TAX RATE

Meeting Devoted to Outlining of The Borough's Needs in 1947

SET RATE AT 12 MILLS

DOYLESTOWN, Jan. 23—Careful check of Doylestown borough needs financially show that the "house-keeping" budget for the town will approximate $147,475, and that the tax rate will remain unchanged, it being 12 mills.

Approximate receipts and expenditures for the year were listed at an adjourned meeting of council this week.

The evening was devoted to outlining the budget, which will be formally presented at the next meeting of council on Jan. 20. After that date the budget will be open for public inspection for two weeks, after which the final adoption will take place.

Substantial increases were allowed in most departments of the borough with the idea in view that considerable money will be spent on improvements this year when materials become available, plus the fact that salaries may be raised in the various departments at the next regular meeting.

The water departments budget was increased to $39,000 from a $16,000 expenditure last year. This increase is due to the fact that new lines will be laid in several sections of Doylestown where new building projects are getting under way.

The street department budget was set at $35,000 which will take care of all the work planned by that department in 1946.

Increase in the police department budget was made from $12,542 spent last year to $16,000 for 1947, which will take care of the employment of another police officer, increased salaries and the probable purchase of a new radio car set-up.

The light department's quota for 1947 was set at $8,600; Board of Health, $800; retirement of bonds, $1,000; interest on bonds, $1,500; administrative expenses, $7,000; miscellaneous, $6,000; tree commission, $1,000, an increase of $500 over last year.

The sewer department budget for 1947 was set at $30,000, which does not include the proposed sewer improvement plans that will come under the "vote of the people" bond issue plan.

Council members were informed last night that under the new system of tax collection in Doylestown the costs of collecting the borough tax in 1946 was $1,355, or approximately $1,200 more than under the old tax collection system in Doylestown.

We're proud of the big things our little Want Ads do.

Rev. E. Paul Baird Speaks on Sportsmanship

The players of the Bristol Youth League met in the basement of St. Ann's Church Tuesday evening and listened to an instructive address on sportsmanship by the Rev. E. Paul Baird, of St. Mark's Church.

Father Baird likened the game of basketball to life and advised the players that the ones who play fair and are able to keep cool and collected, despite foul tactics by his competitors, will come out on top.

Ralph Palladino, president of the league, conducted the meeting, and league advisors in attendance were: Rev. Fr. Peter Pinci, pastor of St. Ann's Church, Chief of Police Linford J. Jones, Renzo Girotti, Fred Leyden, Nick Rago and Thomas Juno.

Willie Goes to School at 23

Everybody's joshing Willie Wells about going back to school. They remember when Willie would hide out in the woodshed—scared to bring his report card home to Pa.

But under the G.I. Bill of Rights, Willie (who has a wife and baby) is getting a free education at the Agricultural College. And Uncle Sam is giving him a fine report: "Dependent, excellent; Progress, above average."

That goes for all those under-graduate veterans. Like Willie, they appreciate an education more than

From where I sit, cynical folks who thought veterans wouldn't want to return to school—wouldn't stick to steady habits of work and moderation—have their answer in "undergraduates" like Willie.
